CHAIRMAN'S AGM STATEMENT

Carlton Communications Plc held its Annual General Meeting in London today.
Michael Green, Chairman, said:

"In 2001 our focus was on managing our businesses in a difficult year, to ensure Carlton is well positioned to benefit from a recovery in demand for advertising, and to create long-term value. We completed the process of re-shaping the Group following the sale of Technicolor and the integration of HTV. Carlton is now a focused media company with a more streamlined management and a lower cost base. Paul Murray joined as our new Finance Director.

"The advertising market remains weak and we are unable to predict with certainty the timing of a resumption in growth. ITV's advertising revenue in the first five months of our current financial year is expected to be around 12 per cent lower than last year. However, we expect the football World Cup in June will stimulate renewed interest amongst leading advertisers. When business confidence returns, new product launches will favour ITV1, which provides advertisers with unrivalled impact.

"We continue to ensure we are making the most effective use of ITV1's £1 billion annual programme spend. The huge success of Pop Idol this month is proof of ITV's ability to create talked-about-television. Strengthening the overall performance of the ITV1 schedule is a key priority for this year.

"ITV2, ITV1's digital sister channel, is attracting new audiences and advertiser interest. Since its launch on digital satellite last November, its audience share has quadrupled. Its schedule of extensions to ITV1 shows such as Pop Idol, an interactive version of Who Wants to be a Millionaire, old favourites like Kavanagh QC, time-shifted repeats and American imports like Letterman, is already proving more popular than E4, yet with only half the programme budget."

"Yesterday we announced to the Stock Exchange that we and Granada had discussed a possible combination of our businesses. Our objective, as always, was to make Carlton and ITV stronger and more competitive. We will continue to work together with our partners in ITV to deliver value to our customers and our shareholders.

"Discussions with the BBC and other broadcasters and manufacturers regarding free to air Digital Terrestrial Television are continuing."

Michael Green concluded:

"In the year ahead our focus will be on three key areas: strengthening ITV1's schedule performance, continuing to reduce the costs in our businesses, and shaping the future of both free and paytelevision."

12Feb02 UK: REG-CARLTON COMMS PLC ITV DIGITAL NUMBERS.

Carlton Communications PLC

12 February 2002

12 February 2002

ITV Digital on track

ITV Digital's latest subscriber figures, published today, show growth to the end of December continuing in line with the objectives announced in April 2001.

Rob Fyfe, ITV Digital Managing Director, said:

"Our plan since April has been to deliver steady growth in subscribers and to control our cost base. These results demonstrate that we are achieving that aim."

Subscriber numbers grew during the quarter by 46,000 to a total of 1,263,000. Penetration in pubs and clubs continues to grow, reaching around 20 per cent of this important - and profitable - market. Over a million customers are watching UEFA Champions League in pubs and bars.

Annualised ARPU was £225. The price increases for existing customers, which were implemented in January 2002, should increase their ARPU on average by about £25 on an annualised basis.

The company is also continuing to drive down costs internally. With the benefits of new technology and improved training, a reduction of around 600 posts will be achieved, almost entirely voluntarily, during the current quarter, without jeopardising the quality of service to customers. This represents about 25% of the company's workforce at its peak.

Three-month churn, at 24.9 per cent, remains within our forecast range. The net cost of churn to ITV Digital is substantially lower than for other platforms, because ITV Digital recovers the set top boxes and recycles them.

During the quarter, Discovery Channel was added and the penetration of ITV Sport Channel rose from 11 per cent to 16 per cent.

A number of manufacturers of set top boxes are planning to produce low-cost products, to receive free to air channels. ITV Digital is working with these manufacturers to ensure that these products meet acceptable standards and are capable of being upgraded to receive future services, including pay TV.

When these products come on to the market, they will constitute a substantial potential market for ITV Digital, further increasing the difference between the lower acquisition costs of ITV Digital and other platforms.

Notes to editors

1. Of the total of 1,263,000 subscribers, 19,000 residential customers have signed contracts but are yet to activate their smartcards and around 10,000 have been installed without subscriptions, mainly in dealers, for demonstration purposes.

2. ITV Digital continues to take the strongest measures against all manufacturers, sellers and users of counterfeit equipment.
